Dear Fellow Investor,

Starbucks became a global brand powerhouse in the blink of an eye -- you could've multiplied your Starbucks investment over SEVEN TIMES if you bought 5 years after the company went public...

Nike made the world want to 'just do it' -- imagine getting into Nike stock in the mid-1980's, just as that stock went on a historic run, making you over 15,000%...

Wal-Mart now sits atop the Fortune 500 list of America's biggest companies -- if you invested just $5,000 in Wal-Mart in 1980, 10 years after it went public, you'd have around $2 million today!

To glimpse what could be your second chance at an investing fortune... simply click the link below!

You'll be taken to a secure Motley Fool webpage, where you can watch and listen to a former security guard at Pfizer (a regular Joe) describe America's next forever stock, and how he's made a bundle investing The Motley Fool way:
